

Security Research & Innovation Event 2016

powered by The Hague Security Delta

After the Nuclear Security Summit and the Global Conference on Cyber Space, the Netherlands hosted yet another international security event on 1 & 2 June 2016. During this Security Research and Innovation Event in The Hague international representatives from businesses, governments and knowledge institutions came together to discuss the current European security challenges. The event offered a conference, workshops, matchmaking programme and Innovation Room and could not have been organised without the cooperation of 50 partners.
